Audubon Nature Calendar 2007 National Audubon Society

The beauty and spectacle of nature are celebrated in vivid and inspiring images, from the grand edifice of Lone Pine Peak bathed in morning mist to the sturdy and statuesque Douglas firs of the Pacific Northwest to Mount Trundle's distinctive tilted profile reflected in a tranquil lake. It is nature at its most awe-inspiring. With lush photographs beautiful in composition and vibrant in color, Audubon Nature celebrates nature's very essence and marvels in its drama. Both a tribute to our unspoiled wilderness treasures and an affirmation of nature's raw power, this is North America at its most glorious and resplendent.
