The Finish: The Killing of Osama bin Laden Mark Bowden

"There wasn't a meeting when someone didn't mention Black Hawk Down."

—A senior Obama Administration official, as quoted in The New York Times, on May 2, 2011

From Mark Bowden, internationally best-selling and acclaimed author of Black Hawk Down and the preeminent chronicler of the actions of our military and special forces writing today, comes an intensely gripping account of the hunt for and elimination of Osama bin Laden. With unprecedented access to key sources and his great gift for storytelling, Bowden takes us inside the rooms where decisions were made and on the ground where the action unfolded. The story focuses on Bin Laden, who maintained a stream of despairing correspondence in hiding in the year before his death, and on President Obama, perceived by many as an anti-war candidate, whose evolving views and enormous responsibilities have turned him into one of the most determined warriors to ever inhabit the White House.

Bowden's book is an unrivaled account of the most high-profile special-forces operation ever to have been undertaken, and a pause-resistant narrative of how the man behind 9/11 was finally brought to justice.

Shannon Palmer:

As a scholar exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or to make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's heart and soul or real their passion. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading significantly. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring in addition to can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this The Finish: The Killing of Osama bin Laden can make you really feel more interested to read.
