She raised an eyebrow, reached into the bag and said, "What's this, Davey?" Her hand came out clutching a coil of white, cotton rope. When the daughter of his calculus professor invites him into her house, Dave Fowler realizes that he has more to worry about than his poor grades in the course. The chance encounter between Dave and Marisol ignites a love that burns hotter in the face of social, religious and legal opposition, changing their lives forever. Dave is a conservative, Catholic, twenty-seven-year-old virgin who harbors secret bondage fantasies. Marisol, who is Mexican by birth and grew up in Spain, follows none of the sexual or politically correct restrictions of the United States. Her strength and influence help free Dave from his emotional bonds. Seeking freedom, the lovers struggle against social aggression and extremism, as well as Dave's religious inhibitions. As their love and passion grow, the younger Marisol becomes the teacher, and Dave becomes the student. To escape the oppressive culture and his own demons, Dave must learn and follow the love of his life to achieve emotional and sexual growth in the face of fear and social repression.
